Where we collect information about you from

The majority of personal information we get directly from you and your activities as a programme member but we may also collect personal information from other sources, namely: 1) our Retail Partners; 2) our Betting Partners; and 3) social media channels such as Facebook, Google and Twitter.

Do you share my data with other organisations?

Our role is to provide you with the services connected to your membership of the Rewards4Golf programme. We only share your personal information with others if:

- you ask us to or give us your permission to share it;
- it is necessary to track the transactions and collection of Rewards4Golf points through our Retail Partners or our Betting Partners;
- it is necessary to track the transactions and collection of Rewards4Golf points through our in-store Retail Partners where you have chosen to register your credit card and/or debit card and/or charge card to your Rewards4Golf account to collect points with these partners;
- it is necessary to enable us (or trusted third parties, such as Google, Inc. ("Google")) to analyse how our website is being used by members and to optimise and improve the Rewards4Golf website and our services;
- this is necessary for trusted third parties (for example, a data management and profiling organisation such as Experian) to match your personal information against other information they hold about you - such as age, gender, demographic information, and known interests - and provide that information to us to help us provide the services and improve your experience with the Rewards4Golf programme; or
- we engage in a corporate activity, such as a sale, transfer, merger or re-organisation of Rewards4Golf's business.

In exceptional circumstances, we may share your information without your permission if we reasonably believe you might be breaking the law, for example on hate speech, and such disclosure is allowed under the relevant laws, including Data Protection law.

When we share your data outside of Rewards4Golf we will:

- always share it in a secure way; and
- not permit it to be used for third party marketing purposes.

How do you personalise the experience that I have with the Rewards4Golf programme?

We may use your online browsing behaviour as well as details of your online transactions with our Retail Partners and Betting Partners which will help us better understand you as a member, provide you with personalised offers and services and help us to better meet your needs as a member.

Will I be contacted for marketing purposes?

Yes. As a member of the Rewards4Golf programme, we will keep you updated by e-mail with points earning opportunities for programme members as well as how to make great savings with our partners. These will include:

- Exciting and relevant competitions and promotions within the programme that we are running for members.

As you may expect, we tailor the communications that you receive based on information and preferences that you have previously provided (such as your favourite retailers) and based on your activities on the Rewards4Golf website, through our Mobile App or on the Points Reminder while signed-in. This is so that we can give you the most relevant and rewarding experience with the programme.

We want to ensure that we provide you with relevant marketing communications relating to the programme and our products and services, as well as those of our Retail Partners and Betting Partners. To achieve this, we may measure the effectiveness of our marketing communications as well as your responses to marketing communications relating to products and services we offer.
